This means reading!! Together we will pick a book, and have group discussions. It's a great way to meet other amazing young ladies, and really dive into our power as women: Making decisions, Confidence, Where/How do we fit in the world, Learning what we can do, And what we DO NOT need to do.

COOL time. SMART time. LEARNING ourselves time.
SOCIAL SUPPORTIVE THERAPEUTIC

Kerri Honaker, M.S., M.A., LPC Director/Owner of neuroAgility. I have been working with teens for many years. As an employer and specialist in brain mapping and neurofeedback, I am very interested in teens and their development. I am often in a mentorship role in the many facets I face in owning a business, and working with my clientele, employees, contractors, and consultants. I think it is a great time, place, and opportunity for young women to have a forum that is safe and therapeutic to voice their opinions, perspectives, tough emotional places. I am very inspired and more than amazed at the strength and struggle of teenage girls, I am delighted and honored to be a part of their process.

Stay connected this summer!
